

Ms. Iacono

Where were you born?

- I was born in Massachusetts. But, I have lived other states too- Louisiana, Vermont, Maine, and Connecticut.

What college did you graduate from?

- I graduated from Framingham State University. Fun fact- it was the first college for teachers in our country!

How many years have you been teaching?

- This is my 13th year teaching.

How long have you worked at Hickory Creek Elementary?

- This is my 6th year at Hickory Creek.

What's something a child has taught you?

- We don't all learn the same way, but we can all learn.

What are some traditions or superstitions you have about school?

- I make a 'first day of school' special dinner for my family every year since my first child started kindergarten. He is now a senior in high school!

In which other teacher's class would you like to enroll, even for a day? Why?

- I would love to join a photography class. It seems so interesting and I would love to be able to learn how to create amazing pictures.

If you could pass on any wisdom to your students, what would you share?

- The more you practice, the better you get. There is no such thing as perfect.

If you won the lottery and decided to give up teaching, what would you do instead?

- I would travel the world! I've been to 38/50 states, Aruba, Canada, and Greece but would love to add to it!
